The Loser.

Who could easily be a Winner (THREAD)

1. Envy personified

Bubbles with uncontrollable envy, the moment he sees someone with results he desperately craves.

2. Refuses to acknowledge his own fears

Hence he never actually confronts them. Stays small.

3. A fake sense of Self-Confidence

Walks around with a facade of self-confidence. Based on his thoughts, not real-world achievements.

4. Quick to anger

His anger is impotent. Scares no one. Nor does he channelize it effectively. He's constantly seething & suffering.

5. Master at pointing fingers at the world except himself

This is why he never improves although he can

6. Intelligence without action

He's found perpetually drowning in his own self-proclaimed 'intelligence'. What's produced is bitterness & resentment & wasted potential.

7. Hates hard work

Always looks for shortcuts. As simple as that. Shirks putting in sincere effort, for a sustained period.

8. Waits to get Discovered

Obviously, he remains undiscovered- instead of doing the needful to prove his merit.

9. Shy's away from risk

Can't bear the prospect of failing-- due to embarrassment. He's too proud.

10. Distracted

Unable to focus. Poor bio-chemistry. Too many interests, passions- but fails to concentrate his energies.

Such a Pity.

Don't be this man.
